

Indirect Characterization

American Literature

Name: _____

Instructions: Label your character in the bull's eye. Next, find four examples of indirect characterization in regard to your character and list those examples in the middle ring. Finally, explain in the outer ring what each example implies about the internal composition or personality of your character.

Indirect Characterization: shows the internal composition or personality of a character indirectly through his or her speech, thoughts, appearance, or actions.
